Race Bookie Reopens, Gambling Ban Pfft

Mansfield's horse race bet-booking establishment is back in business at the same old stand.

Max Mosberg, who for years has operated an illegal book-making establishment for horse race bettors, was doing a brisk business Saturday and, in all probability, this afternoon also, in his betting room upstairs at 12½ South Main street.

Resumption of business a couple of weeks ago by Mosberg is the final phase in the reopening of illegal gambling operations in Mansfield, after a Feb. 1 closing of all gambling spots and disappearance of punchboards and poker sheets from cigar stores and newsstand counters.

After the closing last February, Police Chief Jesse Schwab revealed that the gambling ban had been imposed at his order, and on Feb. 3, Chief Schwab told newsmen that the gaming ban was a "permanent" one.

"This is no flurry to last a few days. We intend to watch for gambling operations and keep them down," Schwab told News-Journal newsmen at that time.

Schwab at that time added the further explanation that Mayor Roy W. Vaughn had given him a free hand to enforce the law and that he intended to see that it was enforced.

Re-opening of the Mosberg bookie was preceded by widespread rumors that a second bookie operator, reportedly a Clevelander, was to be permitted to run a horse book in a downtown location and that this character was to have exclusive control of all gambling with a regular pay-off by other operators and a "fix" with law enforcement agencies.

According to these rumors Mosberg was to have been "frozen out." Later stories said that Mosberg would open first and the second operator would follow. The second bookie has not materialized.

Mosberg's opening came off quietly, however, and as early as May 31, a News-Journal reporter walked unquestioned into Mosberg's establishment, selected names of horses from conveniently-placed racing forms, and placed bets on races, tickets for which (losers) are reproduced in accompanying pictures.

Two Die In Area Mishaps

Jeep Kills One; Train Another

Two area men were killed during the week end, one when his borrowed jeep overturned eight miles northwest of Mansfield on State Route 314; the other in the Baltimore and Ohio railroad yards in Willard.

The dead:

Richard E. Putney, 33, Cardington, R. D. 2.

Fred Worthy, 42, Willard B. and O. camp resident.

State highway patrolmen said Putney died of a fractured skull when the army surplus jeep failed to negotiate a curve on the highway and overturned.

A companion, Donald L. Packer, 26, 607 East Bucyrus street, Crestline, suffered abrasions and lacerations of the arms and face. Packer was reported in "good" condition today at General hospital.

SIXTH OF YEAR

Patrolmen said the fatality, sixth one this year in Richland county, occurred at 5:15 p. m. Sunday. Eight persons were killed in traffic mishaps in the same period last year.

Putney was pronounced dead on arrival at General hospital. The body was taken to the Finefrock funeral home where an effort is being made today to locate relatives.

Putney had been employed as a farm hand for Joseph Mosher of the Cardington address since May 7. Mosher said he loaned the jeep to Putney who said he wanted to go to Iberia to see a brother-in-law. Mosher said today he found Putney had no brother-in-law in Iberia.

Finefrock funeral home directors said they believed the World War II veteran is survived by parents in Prescott, W. Va., and by an estranged wife and daughter in California.

SOUGHT REFUGE

Worthy, whom railroad officials believe crawled beneath the railroad cars to escape the rainstorm Saturday afternoon, was discovered dead on Track 8 in the yards by the yard crew at 2 p. m. Saturday.

It is believed that several cars, shunted to another track by a west-bound humper, passed over the body before it was discovered.

According to company records Worthy was born May 14, 1906 in Troy, Ala., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Worthy, survive.

The body is being held at the Fink funeral home in Willard pending notification of relatives.

ISRAELI CHIEF SLAIN—The commander of Israeli forces in Jerusalem, Col. David Marcus (above) was killed in Palestine just before the truce went into effect. An American World War II hero, Marcus was reported responsible for the creation of the Jewish army in the Holy Land. (See story on Page 5.) (International)

Tense Peace Ends Battles In Palestine

Mediator Seeking Permanent Accord

TEL AVIV—(INS)—A tense and troubled peace reigned over the holy land today.

United Nations observers reported "all quiet on all fronts." And on the Aegean island of Rhodes U. N. Mediator Count Folke Bernadotte hoped to find a permanent settlement of the Arab-Jewish conflict.

But on the fourth day of the truce there was still danger that the warfare would break out anew.

In Jerusalem, U. S. Consul General William C. Burdett, a member of the truce commission, narrowly averted a renewal of hostilities when he persuaded the Arab legion not to fire on a Jewish convoy.

The convoy, first to arrive in the Holy City in more than seven weeks, brought food badly needed by Jerusalem's 100,000 Jews.

It was not checked by the U.N. truce commission, and Arab-Jewish disputes that arose from its arrival boded no good for the future of the cease-fire agreement.

But U. N. observers pointed out hopefully that the truce has weathered more difficult moments in its brief span of life thur far.

Earlier, the government of Israel had ordered its forces to fight back in "self defense" against alleged Arab attacks in Northern Palestine. And Arab leaders delivered an ultimatum to Bernadotte, warning of a "general offensive" unless alleged Jewish violations ceased.

Fishing Luck Turns Bad To Tune of $315

CLEARFIELD, Pa. — (UP) — Charles H. McMasters of Route 5, Warren, O., went fishing over the week-end.

His luck was good. Along Twelve Mile run he landed a catch of 31 brook trout. Then his luck turned bad.

All the fish were undersize according to regulations, and McMasters was taken into custody by Lester Ogden, fish warden of Clearfield, and David Oldani of Berwindale, Pa.

Justice of the Peace R. P. Neal fined McMasters $10 per fish, plus $5 cost—a total of $315.

Draft Bill Vote Now Approved

Committee Splits 6-4

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The rules committee voted 6-4 today to send the draft bill to the House floor for debate later this week.

The decision has been pending in the rules committee since May 7. Before the vote was taken Chairman Andrews (R-NY) of the House armed services committee appealed for the measure to be cleared to the House floor.

Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo), leading draft opponent in the House, opposed the action by the rules group.

Passage of the bill is considered virtually assured. Similar legislation passed the Senate last week.

The committee balloted after a final two-hour open session and a half-hour behind closed doors.

ACTION SECRET

Chairman Leo E. Allen (R-Ill) refused to say how committee members voted. He said, however, that only one roll call was taken.

A motion to table the bill was defeated 7 to 3, Allen said.

The committee decided to allow three hours of general debate on the bill. It will be open to amendments, and one motion to recommit the bill to the armed services committee will be allowed.

Even opponents of the peacetime draft bill—already approved by the Senate in slightly different form—conceded that it is certain to pass the House once it is called to a vote.

Appeal Lost By Eisler

Communist Faces Year In Prison

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The U. S. court of appeals today upheld the conviction of Gerhardt Eisler for contempt of Congress.

Eisler, an admitted communist has been termed the "number one communist agent in the United States."

The court sustained Eisler's sentence of one year in prison and $1,000 fine in a two to one decision. It rejected Eisler's claim that District Judge Alexander Holtzoff, who conducted his trial on the contempt charges, was biased and prejudiced against him.

Eisler stood trial after refusing to be sworn in to testify before the House unAmerican activities committee.

Justice Bennett Champ Clark, who wrote the majority opinion of the appeals court, said that the claim of hostility was unjustified and that Holtzoff's handling of the case was "proper."

Justice James M. Proctor concurred with Clark.

In a dissenting opinion, Justice E. Barrett Prettyman said that the charges of prejudice were sufficient to require the disqualification of Holtzoff from hearing the Eisler case.

Bankers Prefer Taft, Poll Shows

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, is the Republican whom bankers would like most to see as president.

That's the result of a poll published today by "Washington Banktrends," a weekly which conducted the survey.

Holdouts Hint Snarl In GOP Convention

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A new holdout trend among favorite sons threatens today to stretch out the Republican national convention's presidential balloting.

Followers of some major candidates report several of their colleagues with single-state backing have become increasingly cagey about making any second or third ballot promises of support.

Gov. Earl Warren, for instance, has served blunt notice to those who have been wooing his backing that he is going to hold on to California's 53 votes for several ballots at Philadelphia to see what happens.

Warren's friends contend he has a better chance for the nomination than anyone else if none of the big four most frequently mentioned can crash through. These are Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Senator Robert A. Taft, Harold E. Stassen and Senator Arthur Vandenberg.

The feeling has been growing among Republicans generally that the convention beginning June 21 will develop into a drawn out fight for the nomination.

Stassen's latest prediction that he will win the prize on the ninth ballot is a sample of how that thinking goes.

Dewey, however, insists he will cop the prize "after not too many ballots."

Warren, also on hand for the meeting, sidestepped questions about his own chances. He said, however, he intends to talk to as many other governors as possible.

There are indications that Taft, like Dewey, believes the issue will be settled fairly soon, but Rep. Clarence Brown, Taft's manager, has said there may be seven ballots.

Ordinarily Republicans nominate a president speedily. It took six tries for them to pick the late Wendell L. Willkie in 1940, but only one to settle on Dewey in 1944. One ballot had decided the issue in the four conventions preceding 1940.

The modern record was set in 1920 when it required 10 votes to pick Warren G. Harding. The all-time record was in 1880, when James Garfield was chosen on the thirty-sixth.

City Crews Push Repairs

Streets Damaged Heavily By 2.46-Inch Deluge

Damage to municipal and private property was estimated today at many thousands of dollars as a result of Saturday's heavy rain as street department workers started the task of repairing and cleaning city streets.

Several streets still were closed to traffic as a result of the 2.46 inches of rain. Others were in bad condition as a result of sunken dig-ups.

Street Supt. E. W. Davis said that it would take a week or more to get the city's streets back into shape. He added that all general repair and maintenance would be postponed until his 50 employes complete repairing storm damage.

North Mulberry street between Fifth and Sixth street was closed. Davis said the pavement was torn up when water seeped underneath.

"The damage was greater than we first thought" he said, "The street will have to be resurfaced in many places." Davis placed the cost of the work at $600.

Unpaved Westbrook avenue was washed out by Saturday's deluge. It still was closed today.

Davis reported that dig-ups (holes dug in the pavement by water and sewer department repair crews) were in bad shape. He explained that during the heavy rain the temporary dirt fillings sank, leaving gaping holes.

"The worst spot," he said, "is out on Yale drive where some of the dig-ups sank as much as three feet. There's a crew out there today repairing the street, but we've had to make it a one-way street temporarily."

Davis said streets all over the city were full of dirt and debris and that spills at catch basins were of particular trouble.

"Despite the fact that we've repeatedly asked home-owners not to sweep grass cuttings into the gutter, they persist in doing it. During the rain, many sewer inlets were blocked by matted grass and intersections became flooded

Rain Predicted Late Tonight

Mansfielders enjoyed another sunny day today, but rain is expected to return tonight. Forecaster Milton Davis said showers are expected late tonight and that there will be scattered rain continuing into Wednesday.

Temperatures are heading for between 80 and 90 degrees this afternoon, but rain was to bring a cooler spell.

Yesterday's high was 73 at 6 p. m. and at 5:30 this morning it went to a low of 52.

The Ohio forecast is mostly sunny and somewhat warmer today.

Mother Suspected In Deaths

Poison Kills Daughter, Dad

CINCINNATI — (UP) — Mrs. Mary Clay Watts, 43, was held in jail without bond today on charges of first degree murder in the poison death of her daughter, Barbara Ann, 11, after it was learned that her husband died in 1944 of arsenic poisoning.

Norwood Police Chief Charles Fritz said an autopsy showed that the body of Willis Watts, 42, who died Nov. 27, 1944, had "plenty of arsenic" in it.

The body was exhumed last Tuesday at Winchester, Ky., after police officials became suspicious when Coroner Herbert P. Lyle said the schoolgirl's death was due to chronic mercury and acute barbituate poisoning.

Lyle said that the autopsy revealed the girl had swallowed small amounts of mercury periodically. Mrs. Watts said she recalled her daughter had played with mercury to make coins shiny and had once put some in her mouth. She said she told the girl not to do it any more.

POISON FOR PIGEONS

Mrs. Watts told police that they had had some Paris green on the property to kill pigeons prior to her husband's death, but said she did not know how he could have taken any of it.

She told the Norwood police chief she was willing to undergo a lie detecor test but her attorney advised against it.

"I am innocent," she said. "I didn't kill Barbara Ann."

Court Nips Ship Strike

U. S. Injunction Request Granted

NEW YORK—(AP)—A U. S. district court judge today granted the government a temporary injunction restraining a threatened nationwide strike of more than 100,000 maritime workers.

The strike had been threatened by the seven unions involved for any time after tomorrow midnight. It would involve dock workers on the east, gulf and west coasts as well as the seamen who man most of the nation's merchant shipping.

The injunction, asked by the department of justice acting under orders from President Truman, was granted by Federal Judge John W. Clancy.

The injunction specifically named the National Maritime union, the Marine Engineers Beneficial association, and the American Radio association, all CIO affiliates, as well as unlicensed shipping personnel and 54 shipping companies.

Injunctions affecting the other unions involved were expected to be filed in other cities today.

Truman Plans Talks In Ohio

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — President Truman may make one and possibly several brief talks in Ohio next Thursday.

As his schedule now stands, aides said yesterday, Mr. Truman will arrive in Columbus about 5 p. m. (EST) Thursday and speak there. They said there also was a possibility he will make brief talks at other stops in Ohio.

He will pass through Ohio en route from Indianapolis to Pittsburgh.

Escapers Captured

The last two members of a Mansfield reformatory quartet who drilled their way out of the institution hospital Thursday morning were in custody of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., police today.

The pair, Charles Fetzer, 27, of Toledo, and Albert J. Connors, 24, Cleveland, said they would waive extradition. However, Supt. Arthur L. Glattke of the reformatory, said extradition papers would be drawn up and probably would be served next week.

Both escapers were patients at the hospital. With two trusties, they broke out a bricked-up window in the hospital tower and fled through the narrow opening shortly after 4 a. m. Thursday.

OTHERS CAUGHT

The other two men, Louis Stanley, 31, of New Orleans, and Rudolph Limauro, 20, of Lynn, Mass., both serving as nurses at the hospital, were apprehended by Ashland police late Thursday in an Erie railroad boxcar in the Ashland yards.

All four face two years' additional penalty each for apprehended escape.

Fetzer and Connors, still in prison garb, at first told Mt. Lebanon police they arrived Sunday on a freight train from Elm Grove, W. Va. Police doubted their story of having hitch-hiked and, after questioning, both admitted having fled the reformatory.

Fetzer is serving a one-to-20-year term for auto theft and Connors 10 to 25 years for robbery.

Cartoonist Found Dead

NEW YORK—(UP)—Police today investigated the death of Harry J. Keys, 55, of Columbus, who was found on the floor of his hotel bedroom.

His wife, Ruth, 57, was found unconscious in the same room. Mrs. Keys is in Metropolitan hospital in serious condition. Police said a bottle of sleeping pills was found near the couple.

Keys, veteran cartoonist of the Columbus Dispatch, arrived here with his wife yesterday to begin a vacation.

Police said the couple was found by the hotel's night supervisor last night shortly after they had registered. The supervisor called a house physician who pronounced Keys dead and sent his wife to the hospital.

Measure Goes Next To Senate

Bill Would Add 3,500,000

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The House today passed and sent to the Senate a bill to make federal old-age insurance available to 3,500,000 additional workers. Approval was by standing vote.

The measure is one of the pieces of legislation which the Republican congressional leadership wants enacted before adjournment.

The measure would:

1. Allow state and municipal employes to come under the federal social security system provided the states and the federal government enter into agreements calling for such coverage.

2. Allow employes of nonprofit organizations and institutions to participate in the system under agreements with the federal government.

3. Require participation in the old-age assistance program of employes of a relatively small number of enterprises not now included. Among these would be construction and maintenance workers of the Tennessee Valley authority; off-the-farm processors of fruits and vegetables and employes of college fraternal organizations.

BENEFITS REMAIN SAME

The measure does not increase social security benefits — as requested by President Truman. The existing social security tax rates would be continued. At present, employer and employe each pay one per cent on the first $3000 of wages.

Mr. Truman also had asked for far broader coverage of workers, such as self-employed and agricultural and domestic employes. But the House ways and means committee chose to confine its legislation to the bill sponsored by Rep. Daniel A. Reed (D-NY).

The bill specifies that salesmen and similar employes who work on a commission basis do not qualify for social security coverage.

It contains a proviso under which time spent in military service would be disregarded in computing a retired wage earner's benefits. This provision would not apply, however, if the retired wage earners receive veterans' benfits.

Grasshopper Wave Fought

EDMONTON, Alta.,—(INS)—Canadian department of agriculture workers battled today with poison spray and army flame throwers to stem a wave of ravenous grasshoppers, sweeping over central Canadian prairies.

Vast hordes of the destructive insects are destroying the tender green grain in the heart of Canada's bread basket.

Infested areas already extend widely over central and southern Saskatchewan.

Newspaper Liberal With Free Plugs for Red-Tainted Groups

NEW YORK — On May 31, in a department or "column" entitled "About People", by Jean and Robert Boardman, the New York Herald Tribune carried a free plug for a resort called Cafe Society Downtown.

It said "Mildred Bailey, who opens tomorrow at Cafe Society Downtown," an undisguised free announcement of some commercial value, however great or small, "met Lucienne Boyer, the French singer—" and so forth.

It was a couple of inches of innocent babble about the size of their feet and the difference between the American and the continental methods of measurement.

This sort of stuff is sheer publicity. Most of us are host to such rubbish and, inasmuch as it cannot justify its space as news, it is our option to run it or to ditch it for particular reasons.

For a long time there were two Cafes Society in New York but the Uptown plant closed abruptly last winter soon after the expose in these essays of the political character of the ownership and of some of the more prominent clients.

The liquor license of Cafe Society Uptown was held jointly by Lucy and Bernard Josephson, the wife and brother of Leon Josephson, a notorious communist conspirator. Heholds American citizenship through naturalization, being a native of Libau, Soviet Russia, formerly Latxia. Leon is now in the federal correctional institution at Milan, Mich., doing a year for refusing to testify before the Thomas committee of the House of Representatives. He was fined $1,000 also, all this by the federal court.

Without his testimony, the committee was able to prove that Leon conspired to obtain by fraud an American passport for Gerhardt Eisler, the chief of the Soviet agents in the continuing conspiracy or cold war against the government of the United States.

Gerhardt is a brother of Hans, the musician, who was admitted during the war against all the evidence of his communist activities on the special demand of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. After long and expensive proceedings he was found guilty and ordered deported.

The communists dramatized this deportation order as a crime against art and a reviewer who covered for the Herald Tribune a sort of farewell show by Hans took that artistic occasion to express his enormous regret that this great man was to be exiled from these shores.

As these essays have observed in dated particular many times, the Herald Tribune, formerly an orthodox Republican paper but now gone far away along a party line leading to the left, sometimes expresses opinions which seem out of place in their context.

Sometimes, also, in the exercise of its own peculiar scale of news values, it suppresses information which seems pertinent, though it would be detrimental to certain communists and their friends.

Lucy Josephson, the forlorn widow of the imprisoned Leon, was with her brother-in-law, Barney, on the incorporation papers for both plants, Downtown and Uptown, which the Thomas committee described as "drops" for the communists.

Guild Plans To Expand Art Program

Classes For Children Will Be Emphasized

Thomas G. Zaugg, newly-elected president of the Mansfield Fine Arts Guild, today announced a three-point program for the coming season.

Zaugg was elected president of the Guild at the membership meeting in the public library Friday night. He suceeds George M. Biddle. The meeting also was made the occasion of a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. John Bernat.

The three-point program as outlined by Zaugg, include:

1. Art classes for children and young people, to continue in cooperation with the City Recreation department.

2. Production of more paintings for the fourth annual art show to be held next spring.

3. A monthly program of stimulation and entertainment in connection with the regular Guild meetings.

PLAN EXPANSION

"During the art program for children last winter, 122 children benefitted by the cooperative program," Zaugg said. "But we want to go way beyond that in the future.

"The time will come when we'll have an annual show for children alone. Our immediate problem is to plan our next year's program to include enough money to provide more materials. Last year we were handicapped by a lack both of paints and materials.

"We plan also during the coming year, to encourage the production of more paintings for the annual show, for which we're already making plans. In connection with this program, we plan to stimulate, through education and entertainment at our meetings, enthusiasm for more production among our local artists."

OTHERS ELECTED

Elected to serve with Zaugg for the coming year were: Mrs. Harry Cave, first vice-president: Dr. H. F. Plaut, second vice-president; Miss Dorothy Scott, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry Lemley, corresponding secretary, and Miss Patricia Maglott, treasurer. Mrs. J. W. McLean was appointed historian.

Dr. Plaut was appointed by the president to develop the monthly programs for the next year.

Other committee chairmen and their committee members are as follows:

Education: Mrs. Denzel M. Schaaf, chairman; Mrs. Olive Scott Haber, Mrs. Paul Swank, Miss Pearl Danback, Miss Mary Jane Bolus, Miss Lois Sands of Ashland, Miss Helen Lindbeck, Miss Nancy Bond and Mrs. Nelson Neff.

Membership: Mrs. Cave, chairman; Mrs. Leonard Hurwitz, Mrs. John Schweitzer, Mrs. Worth M. Kaufman, Miss Nancy Twitchell and Mrs. Harry Pollock.

Exhibition: J. W. McLean, chairman; Mrs. Bruce McGinty, William Oberlin, John Schweitzer, Dan Haber, Mrs. Francis S. Coleman, Shelby, Mrs. Burton Preston III, and A. J. Pifer.

Publicity: Mrs. Rogert Bolin, chairman; Mrs. Thomas G. Zaugg.

During the meeting, the Guild paid high tribute to John and Martha Bernat for their service in organizing the group and helping to make it a vital part of the city's cultural background.

Grange to Observe 75th Year Friday

Madison grange, Richland county's oldest grange organization, will celebrate its diamond jubilee Friday. It will be one of 25 such groups throughout the state eligible to hold 75-year anniversary events.

Organized in 1873, the Madison grange had 17 charter members, who drove to meetings behind Old Dobbin. It now has an enrollment of 215 members.

Newell Smith, a member for more than 50 years, remembers his father telling of those first grange sessions, which then were about the only medium for community get-togethers.

The first session of the grange was held at the home of Joseph Hamilton, east of Mansfield.

Grange members now are devoting their efforts to striving to win a National Grange safety contest. The prize is a new home. Such a prize would be especially welcome to the Madison grange. Its former home was destroyed by fire.

Like all other grange organizations in the nation, the Madison grange directs its energies toward four objectives.

"Those four," William McClelland, present master, pointed out, "include a more prosperous agriculture for Richland county, a more practical education, a better community life and higher ideals of manhood, womanhood and citizenship."

CELEBRATES AT LUCAS

The jubilee celebration will be held at the Lucas school at 8 p.m. Friday. Judge Robert Putman of Millersburg, Knox county farmer and common pleas judge, will be the speaker.

During the ceremonies, gold sheaf booklets will be presented to Willard Culler and W. C. Milligen, who have recently attained their half-century of service with the grange.

Gold sheaf booklets were previously awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Newell Smith, Mrs. Laura McFarland and Leigh Rorick, for their more than 50 years with Madison grange. All but Rorick, who now lives at Bradenton, Fla., will be present for the meeting.

A covered dish supper will precede the program at which Richard Fisher will act as toastmaster and present Judge Putman.

A pageant, depicting the history of the grange, will be presented and there will be dinner music by the Buckeye Ramblers, of Loudonville.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes: Howard Stone, chairman; Mrs. Earl Scheier, Mrs. Claude Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Uhl and Max McFarland.

Toastmaster Hurt In Auto Accident

Richard Fisher, Little Washington road, will spend Friday night, the date of the 75th anniversary celebration of Madison Grange, in his own home, probably in bed, instead of at the head of the dinner table as toastmaster. Fisher, injured in an accident near Massillon Friday night, was still in Massillon hospital this morning with a badly injured knee, chest and face abrasions. He will be replaced for the Friday night celebration by Mrs. Harold Baer.

Lingafelter, secretary of the Mansfield Water department, will be honored tonight by his family, including his son, George E. Lingafelter and three children. READY TO LEAVE—

John and Martha Bernat, 212 Vennum avenue, are having a busy day. They're doing last minute packing preparatory to starting out tomorrow morning on their way to Los Angeles, Calif. It will be a leisurely trip. Bernat expects to sketch pictures along the way and the three little Bernat children will need a lot of extra-curricular sort of things to keep them from being bored, thinks Mrs. Bernat. They want to be in Los Angeles by Aug. 6, when both Mr. and Mrs. Bernat will start new art work. Mrs. Bernat returned home recently from Syracuse where she studied for the winter under Ivan Mestrovic, noted sculptor. John Bernat has been teaching Mansfield school children in art classes during the winter. Both expect to find broader fields for their particular art talent in the west coast areas.

PERSISTENT PICNICKERS—

When the St. Luke's Sunday school starts out to have a picnic, they have one, come 17-year locusts, high water, or loss of electricity. Gathering for an outing in South park Saturday afternoon, the group was besieged by the torrential rains, so they moved to the shelter house. The water followed, running in one side and out the other, and carrying with it hordes of locusts and locust hsells. The party moved to the church basement. Then the electricity went off. They dug out all the candles they could find, staged their children's contests, games, entertainment and a huge lunch. Despite the many difficulties a good time was had by all and believe it or not, 150 stayed for the whole affair.

Entered 2nd Time In 3 Weeks

Intruders Enter By Skylight

The clubrooms of the Disabled American Veterans at 102½ North Walnut street were burglarized today for the second time in three weeks.

The latest burglary was discovered at 5:18 a. m. when patrolmen found the Main street entrance door open.

Further investigation showed that entrance had been gained by climbing a telephone pole near the Court hotel on West Temple court and through a sky light directly over the bar.

Police said $25 in change was found missing and that the clubrooms were ransacked.

The same club was entered on May 28 when burglars made off with approximately $60 in change from the bar room after breaking out the glass in the North Walnut street entrance door.

Theft of more than $25 worth of clothing and tools from a car in a Park avenue east garage was reported to police last night by Elmer Wilson, 286 Park avenue east.

Wilson told officers that a leather jacket, a hunting knife and several wrenches were taken from his car between 10 p. m. and midnight Saturday while the car was parked in his open garage at the rear of his home. Wilson said the car was not locked.

Children's Day Marked

Thousands crowded Mansfield churches for services yesterday morning to see and hear the "little tots" of city Sunday schools present their annual programs of recitations and songs.

It was an ideal day for Children's day exercises. The hundreds of girls who took part in the services, appeared on church pulpits decked out in ruffled, summery dresses with bright ribbons in their hair. The boys, scrubbed till they shone, wore new summer suits.

Children's day is the one day of the year when the younger members of Sunday schools take over worship services.

In many of the 11 churches which held such programs yesterday, the Sunday school and worship services were combined to give more time for the songs and dialogues, that had been rehearsed weeks in advance.

These 11 churches included: St. Paul Lutheran, Park Avenue Baptist, First Brethren, First Congregational, First Methodist, St. Matthew's Lutheran, Main Street Evangelical UB, First Evangelical UB, First Christian, First United Presbyterian, and First English Lutheran

Yankees End Cleveland Win String, 5 to 3

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—(UP)—Babe Ruth's famed number "3" uniform went into baseball's Hall of Fame today after a bit of nostalgic make-believe which tore a tattered page out of the diamond's storied past and for a moment almost made it modern.

It was the silver anniversary of Yankee stadium and the ball club can be proud of those 25 candles.

For out of the dugout—and out of the years—came striding many stars of that 1923 team to bask once again in the adulation of the crowd.

Jumping Joe Dugan . . . Whitey Witt . . . Sad Sam Jones . . . Wally Pipp . . . Bullet Joe Bush . . . Wiley Moore . . . Waite Hoyt . . . Bob Shawkey . . . and Wally Schang.

And there was Mike McNally . . . Freddie Hoffman . . . Tom Zachary . . . Elmer Smith . . . Carl Mays . . . Bob Meusel . . . Hinky Haynes . . . and George Pipgras.

THE Johnnies - Come - Lately crowded in, too. These included Red Rolfe, Bump Hadley, Sammy Byrd, George Selgirk, Joe Gordon, Myril Hoag, Ernie Bonham, Oscar Roettger, Pat Collins, Jake Powell, Lefty Gomez, Bill Dickey, Mark Koenig and Spud Chandler.

And then came the Babe, striding out last of all and walking up to the plate on those pipe-stem ankles to swing at the plate as he had 25 years before.

He never got a finer reception, even in the days when he was the king of clout. It was a roar that sounded as if they were trying to tear down the house that Ruth built.

It took them all back a long way. A moment before they had been a disorganized bunch of men, some fat and some scrawny, some white-haired and others bald. But now they stood up straighter, under the vocal injection, and once again you were looking at a line of ball players who would bring $1,000,000 ready dollars in their prime.

And it sounded like a hymn when the 50,000 fans sent the strains of Auld Lang Syne swelling out of the ball park.

THEY SHUFFLED their feet a bit awkwardly when Will Harridge, the American league president, declared the Babe's number was retired forever from Yankee flannels and destined for the baseball museum. It will rest beside his glove, shoes and the bat with which he belted his record 60th home run in 1927. But they became all attention when the Babe, recovering from a recent critical illness stepped to the mike and cleared his throat.

"It makes me happy to see my old teammates," he said in a harsh and husky voice which was barely intelligible. "And I'm proud to be the man who hit the first home run in this park."

From the crowd's reaction you knew that the Babe had hit another the last time he ever was to wear that "3" in this or any stadium.

IT SEEMED, somehow, very appropriate that the band struck up

"My Hero!"

After it was over the Babe trundled back to the dugout And his teammates took those old familiar places to frolic through two exhibition innings against some of the men who followed them

Old men now yes But they won, 2 to 0 on hits by Meusel and Hoyt. Something had made them young for the moment and this time they gave out for the Babe the guy who had given them so much

It was a beautiful ending for the "3"

Bobby Feller Fails Again To Finish

NEW YORK—(INS)—Lou Boudreau is worried today, which is strange indeed for the manager of the first-place club that has just beaten the defending champs three of four times running.

The Cleveland Indians' 5-3 defeat at the hands of the Yankees yesterday was of little material consequence in itself, but still it is the reason for Boudreau's headache.

Bob Feller again was Cleveland's pitcher yesterday, but he didn't last long With Yogi Berra and little Phil Rizzuto slamming homers and Joe DiMaggio a pair of 400-foot triples, the New Yorkers handed Feller his fourth straight defeat.

WORST RECORD

With a season record of five won and six lost, not a win since May 19, Feller holds the worst record on the Cleveland mound staff and is the only pitcher who has lost more games than he has won.

The question used to be, "Who will follow Feller?" Practically every time Rapid Robert has gone to the mound recently Boudreau has been forced to decide the answer to the question along about the third or fourth inning

With Feller in top form, Cleveland surely would be an odds-on favorite to take the American league flag, especially since the Tribe's brilliant New York showing. Instead, Boudreau likely will have to depend on upstarts Bob Lemon and Gene Bearden for most of the Tribe's victories.

Yesterday's game started as a mound duel between Feller and Ed Lopat of the Yanks. However the Yankees finally got to Feller for two runs in the sixth on the first of DiMaggio's triples and Berra's round-tripper

ADD THREE RUNS

New York added another three markers off Bearden, Feller's replacement in the eighth.

Cleveland got its first run in the fourth on a double by Joe Gordon and a single by Wally Judnich. The Tribe then was blanked until the ninth when Jim Hegan blasted out a home run with Judnich aboard

Cleveland's double victory Saturday, 7-5 and 9-4, all but knocked the demoralized Yankees out of the American league race.

The Indians were to meet the Dodgers today in Brooklyn in an exhibition contest before returning to the comfortable confines of Cleveland stadium

Lapse Gives Shelby 9 Win

A mental lapse by the visiting Galion team gave the Shelby Blues a 3 to 2 victory here yesterday in the second game of a double header. The Shelby American Legion Juniors lost a 4-2 decision to Marion in the first game.

The Blues were trailing 2-0 going into the last half of the ninth inning Don Zeiters singled, George Zeiters was safe on an error and Higgins singled to drive in the first run The tying and winning runs trotted across the plate unmolested as Galion protested a decision at third base. No one had called time out

The Shelby Legion discovered a new dependable pitcher in the person of Don Wetz who allowed but one hit in seven innings of relief pitching Larcom, brilliant young Marion hurler, struck out 16 Shelby batters while giving up only four hits Wetz had never pitched before

Wallace Wins

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — (AP) — James Wallace of Lima, O., won the second heat in Class C of the St Joseph Valley Boat club's seventh annual outboard regatta yesterday

Know Your Golf Shots—Barron

By HERMAN BARRON
(Written Especially for AP Newsfeatures)

So you're satisfied with your golf game. Well, that's fine. In that case there's no use reading what I have to say. It never pays to have anyone tamper with your game — providing you're getting satisfaction and results.

However, many golfers — even the top pros—often become discouraged with the way things are going. Sometimes a golfer's putter is off. Sometimes he feels his drives are not what they should be. Or maybe he is bothered about his iron shots.

A disgruntled golfer is like a person in ill health. The sick person generally goes to his doctor and the disgruntled golfer—well, he either gets out on a course and practices or he sees a professional for instruction. The club pro is like the doctor. Both can help you better than you can help yourself.

But on with our golf game. Let's start from the beginning with the driver. Take a few practice swings. Make a full turn of your hips and shoulders on the backswing. Do this several times

Then try to accentuate the follow through in the forward swing. This will give you a maximum amount of distance and direction.

Now you're ready to address the ball Take a square stance and fix the position of your feet so that the ball is played off the left heel Your hands should be even with the ball. This way the hands will be slightly ahead of the clubhead

Relaxation of balance is important, too Keep your weight balanced and both legs very relaxed with your feet spread no more than the width of your shoulders

Of course, the position of the hands are very important. I prefer the regular overlapping Vardon grip It's the one used by the majority of your star pros and amateurs.

But remember! Start your backswing by pushing your left hand back and coordinating a full turn of your hips and shoulders. And try to hold your head still through the complete swing.

If you're having trouble off the tee you will notice the change almost immediately You'll be hitting the ball straighter and longer. (TOMORROW—The No. 4 wood.)

Mansfield Taverns Defeat Two Opponents Yesterday

T and E Tavern's smooth working baseball team won both ends of a double header at Liberty park yesterday, trimming Lexington 8 to 1 in the opener and Greenwich 4 to 1 in the nightcap. It was their fifth victory against three defeats

Jack Heston and Jerry Novacic did yeoman service on the mound to hold both visiting teams to a single tally.

Heston permitted Lexington to score in the fifth inning of the first game after his mates had built up a lead with five runs in the first and three in the second Trent Snavely led the attack with two hits in three official times at bat.

In the final, the lanky Novacic set ten Greenwich batters down on strikes and kept five hits well scattered. He walked but one man

Greenwich held the lead momentarily when it tallied a lone run in the third inning T and E came back in the last half of the frame to tie the game on Richard Snavely's single, a sacrifice and Loren Tischer's hit.

The locals went ahead to stay in the next frame as Ivan Witchey led off with a single Richard Snavely doubled to left to produce one tally, Clifford Webb walked and Lester Beer singled to right to drive in another. Joe Atton lined a double down the left field line to drive in Webb with the final score

Hammett and Grays Blank Foe, 7 to 0

After a shaky start which saw their lineup changed in practically every game, the Mansfield Grays have apparently gotten themselves squared away for the drive through their tough schedule.

The Grays appeared up to their pre-season rating as one of the best in this section yesterday as they whitewashed Cuyahoga Falls, 7-0, at Blue Goose diamond.

Jack Hammett, lanky ex-Ohio State star, struck out a dozen visiting batters as he allowed only three hits He walked but two men and his mates did not commit a single error behind him

GET FOUR RUNS

The game was a scoreless battle until the last of the fifth when the Grays sewed it up with four runs Kenny Funk, Foster Burgraff and Wilbur Wade collected singles during the spree while two errors and a fielder's choice helped things along.

In the sixth, Red Hamman powered the apple over the fence with two mates aboard.

A's Give Nelson Potter Gate For Not Trying Hard

PHILADELPHIA —(UP)— Nelson Potter, 36-year-old veteran relief pitcher, was fired by Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, yesterday.

Potter, who needs only 40 days to become a 10-year man, was discharged after losing the first game of the Athletics' double-header with the St. Louis Browns yesterday.

The 36-year-old veteran relieved Lou Brissie in the eighth inning with a 5-2 lead, the bases loaded and none out. He walked one and gave up three hits, which complicated by Ray Coleman's error, permitted the Browns to win, 7-5

"If that's the best you can do, get your check," Mack reportedly told Potter as he headed for the showers

Ohioans Get Titles Only In Shoot

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

VANDALIA—(AP)—More than 500 Ohioans, all armed with shotguns, were no match for a few invaders from Michigan and Wisconsin in the state's 62nd championship trapshoot which wound up here yesterday

When the five-day feature was over, about the only thing the Buckeye boys had to brag about was that they had tossed the biggest state trapshoot in the nation's history. More than 600 shooteers competed, an entry surpassed only by the "Roaring Grand American."

The titles were reserved for the Ohioans, since this was an Ohio affair, but in practically every event some foreign hot-shot finished out front to take down a major share of the wide-open prize fund. The state association put $6,700 added money into the pot, and the invaders got more than their share

Walter Yates of Springfield, a 43-year-old paint salesman and a novice at this game of knocking down flying discs, grabbed the big prize in yesterday's windup, the 100-target handicap, with a score of 97 from 18 yards.

CLASS OF FIELD

However, Ned Lilly of Stanton, Mich, who has won practically everything at the Grand American in former years, was the class of the field with a dazzling 99 from 24 yards. Yates got the title, Lilly got most of the cash.

Back of Yates—a fine field shot—were M. E. Hypes of West Alexandria, Mont Whitney of Lexington, Boyd Lamberson of Centerville, Ind, and Fred Kahler of New Albany, Ind, deadlocked at 97 of 100, giving the invaders three of the six top spots.

The day before, as Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro and 17-year-old Joe Devers of Dayton tied for the doubles title with 92 of 100, Lilly proved his prowess at the twin-target game by breaking 98.

Not only that, but Vic Reinders, the U of Wisconsin professor from Waukesha, and Detroit's Karl Maust, tied at 96, while R. B. Crabill of Sturgis, Mich., had 93. That put four foreign shooters ahead of the two Ohioans who shot it out for the crown, Hiestand winning Roy Davidson of Middletown won the 200-target 16-yard singles title with 199 of 200, but Reinders broke the entire 200 to dim Davidson's championship medal.

Top Hawks, 11 to 7

BUTLER — The Butler Merchants easily defeated the Mansfield Hawks here yesterday, 11-7, behind the pitching of Bob Glasscock. Butler, held an 11 to 2 lead going into the final frame.

National League Race Is Tightest Ever

By JOE REICHLER
(AP Sports Writer)

The National league noted for its close pennant races is staging one this year that promises to make all others look like runaways by comparison

With the season nearly one-third gone, the gap between the co-leading New York Giants and Boston Braves and the fourth place St Louis Cardinals is only one and one-half games Pittsburgh is in third place a game behind the leaders

The tight situation does not end there. The fifth place Phillies are only two and a half games off the pace Only eight and a half games separate the last place Chicago Cubs from the leaders

For comparative purposes, the Detroit Tigers in the American league are eight games in back of the pace-setting Cleveland Indians.

The Braves, who dropped out of the lead Saturday when they suffered a double loss to Cincinnati, bounced back into a first place tie with the Giants yesterday by dumping the Reds twice in Cincinnati, 8-7 and 10-5 The Reds blew a six-run lead in the first game Eddie Stanky drove in Bobby Sturgeon with the winning run to climax a four-run ninth-inning rally

In the second game Bob Elliott's fifth inning home run with two mates aboard gave the Braves a commanding lead Hank Sauer of the Reds hit his 18th and 19th home runs and tripled in the second game

The Giants and Cardinals split a couple of close decisions The Giants won the first game 8-7 and the Cards took the second 3-2 snapping a five-game losing streak

The Cards squelched a ninth-inning Giant uprising to eke out a second game win Harry Brecheen, who was charged with the first game defeat toured the last two men in the ninth of the nightcap with the tying and winning runs on the bases

Ralph Kiner hammered out his 16th and 17th home runs of the season to lead the Pirates to a 9-2 second game victory over Philadelphia after the Phils had copped the opener, 8-7

Johnny Schmitz registered his sixth victory of the season and his third over Brooklyn when he hurled the Cubs to a 3-1 victory over the Dodgers in Chicago Gil Hodges spoiled Schmitz's shutout bid with his third homer

The New York Yankees salvaged the final of a four-game series with the Cleveland Indians defeating Bob Feller and the Tribe 5-3

The Philadelphia Athletics split a doubleheader with the St Louis Browns to creep within three games of the American league leading Indians They won the second game 3-1 after having dropped the opener 7-5

The Tigers went above the .500 mark for the first time in weeks when they defeated the Senators in both ends of a doubleheader in Washington 9-3 and 9-2.

Rain forced the postponement of the scheduled doubleheader in Boston between the Chicago White Sox and the Red Sox.

Strategic Raw Materials Stored for Emergencies

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The national munitions board estimated today it has $660 000,000 worth of strategic raw materials stock-piled for emergencies

These are the materials such as nickel for armor plate, tin for engine bearings rubber for tires and bauxite for aluminum in airplanes that caused critical industrial shortages in World War II The nation s military leaders don t want to be caught short again

The five-year stockpiling program calls for storing away $1.-100,000,000 worth of these materials by 1951. This backlog would be enough to get industry rolling should a sudden industrial mobilization be needed.

The nation had a stockpile of only $48,000 000 in 1940, shortly before the U S was plunged into war

Every motorist is familiar now with what happened when the nation ran short of rubber The housewife also knew well the many shortages

The war ended with $320,000,000 worth of strategic raw materials in our securities But it cost the lives of many men and the loss of many ships to haul materials to the United States in wartime. The plan is to get them here safely in peace before any shooting starts.

Congress appropriated $275,000,-000 in fiscal 1947 and 1948 for stockpiling Defense Secretary James Forrestal has asked for another $660,000,000 for stockpiling in fiscal 1949 of which $75 000,000 is to pay for materials already under contract

The munitions board has spent all the money appropriated to date

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, billiousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties

Tight Steel Supply Seen Despite Production Hike

CLEVELAND —(AP)— No significant change in the tight steel supply is expected this year, Steel magazine said today, although production should better 1947's by from two to three million tons.

Unless there is another coal mine shutdown, Steel said, production in the last half of the year should take care of "no more than four million tons" for allocation, European and defense requirements and leave two to three million tons to "materially ease pressure on the market." The overall demands, however, will continue far from satisfied.

Although the April miners' strike caused a 1,500,000 loss of steel production, around 43 million tons of steel ingots will have been turned out this year by June 30, or slightly more than in the like period of last year, Steel said.

Current operations, up 1½ point last week to 96 per cent of capacity, are at the rate of 1,732,000 tons compared with 1,281,210 tons in the average week of 1940, highest prewar production year, Steel reported.

Last week silvery and gray forge iron prices were advanced $4 and $3 a ton by three important producers, Steel said. This upturn in pig iron may forecast an upward adjustment in finished steel prices, the magazine added.

Swimming Alone Dangerous, YM Aquatic Expert Asserts

When going in swimming, two is company, three is better company—and being alone is dangerous!

With good companions your swimming will be more fun and much safer. Practiced swimmer though you may be, you might dive against a rock, be swept far out by a suddenly-encountered current, or get a cramp in deep water. In such a case, it could be your last swim if no one was around to help you or go for aid.

This is the sage advice of John Watkins, aquatic expert of the Mansfield YMCA.

"Lone swimmers," he says, "are virtually asking for trouble. No one is so good or so lucky that he can't get into trouble in the water. If you are alone and get into difficulties, the chances of coming out alive are mighty slim."

Watch that diving, Watkins emphasizes. You swim for safety, he points out, but you dive for pleasure.

NEVER go swimming alone —always have another swimmer with you.

But it's certainly no pleasure to dive into deceptively shallow water. Nor is it fun to smash against a hidden rock or to plunge into a strong undercurrent you didn't know was there.

To get used to cold water, rub it over your legs, stomach, chest and armpits. That way it will not be such a shock to your body or cause your heart to make a difficult adjustment.

If you've just had a heavy meal, it's better to wait a while before taking a swim. Being in water shouldn't interfere with your digestion, but excitment and exertion in water will do it no good, and can put a heavy strain on your heart. If you're exhausted and overheated, rest and cool off before taking to the water. Your swimming endurance is limited when you're tired at the start, and too-sudden changes in temperature may cause cramps or other illness.

Navy to Use Carriers as Sub Fighters

4 Fast Ships Made Available

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Navy plans to convert four swift, light aircraft carriers to anti-submarine duty to meet the challenge of high-speed U-boats

In requesting money for two of the conversions, Adm. Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, recently told the House appropriations committee that, "our anti-submarine technique has not kept pace with the increased capabilities of the modern submarine."

The Germans had developed by the end of the war a submarine with almost twice the speed of other subs and far greater underwater range. This country is basing its new subs on that ship and so, presumably, are Great Britain and Russia.

The baby aircraft carriers, or carrier escorts, that were good enough for the submarines of World War II are now considered practically obsolete With a speed of from 16 to 18 knots they simply are not fast enough—and can't be made fast enough — to cope with modern submarines.

But the light carriers are almost twice as fast and as heavy as the babies. In addition they carry from 45 to 50 fighter and attack planes each

Two of them, the 14,500-ton Saipan and Wright, need only some alterations, the Navy said They were completed in 1946 and 1947 with some features that have lent themselves to anti-submarine tactics.

But the other two, 11,000-ton members of the Independence class of 1943, are due for "major conversion" jobs, the Navy said.

The Navy would not reveal what this includes except that they would have improvements on the anti-submarine features of the 14,500-tonners. A spokesman said that the speed of all four needs no changing The 14,500-tonners are rated at over 30 knots and the 11,000-tonners at over 33 knots.

Likewise, the Navy is having to reconvert its destroyers that, with the baby carriers formed the "hunter-killer" teams of the last war. Included in the appropriations request is money for building one experimental hunter-killer ship slightly larger than a destroyer and conversion of six destroyers.

New Federal Agency Ready To Put 'Gag' on Information

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The economic cooperation administration, newest federal agency, already has put into effect its own "security classification" on information, it was disclosed today.

It has on tap a liberal supply of the rubber stamps marked "top secret," "secret," "confidenttial" and "restricted," any one of which can be used on documents pertaining to the European recovery program.

ECA officials said this is not an extension of administration plans to extend information classification to more than 50 executive department's and agencies.

That plan has been characterized by the American Society of Newspaper Editors as a "gag rule" on the press by virtue of which any official could withhold public information, or even to cover up mistakes in his department.

Donald C. Stone, director of administration for ECA, confirmed in an interview that ECA was reclassifying its information. But he said that such procedure was forced upon the recovery program because it dealt with "sensitive" agencies which employ information classification. These "sensitive" agencies include the state and defense departments.

Union Leader Sues Police

DETROIT — (AP) — Nelson Davis, a member of the CIO-United Auto Workers Local 600, filed a $25,000 damage suit in circuit court Saturday against Wayne County Prosecutor James N. McNally and five policemen.

He charged false arrest in the investigation of the shooting of Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, last April 20. Reuther is recovering from shotgun wounds.

Davis alleged that for three days he was not permitted to communicate with anyone, including his family. He said he was given the "third degree" and threatened with physical injury.

War Crimes Trials Called a 'Farce'

MANILA Sunday—An associate justice of the Philippine Supreme court asserted today that the U. S. war crimes trials of Japanese Generals Tomoyuki Yamashita and Masaharu Homma were "a sanguinary farce." Justice Gregorio Perfecto told an audience at Arellano university:

"The two Japanese were convicted and executed substantially by the same methods through which the Japanese imperial army murdered so many of our citizens."

In the eighteenth century it was common practice to cut large silver coins into quarters and to use the pieces for change.

Storm, Hail Cause Moderate Damage In Galion and Shelby

Streets Are Flooded By Torrents

Gardens Crippled; Call Firemen Twice

GALION — The city is cleaning up today after Saturday's storm which struck Galion at 2 p m. Damage to gardens and fruit trees was unestimated.

A heavy hail beat down on the city about 2 p. m. lasting more than 10 minutes, and was followed by a heavy rain which continued for about four hours.

The hail crippled gardens, stripping leaves off tomato plants, corn and other vegetables. Cherries fell with the hail, strawberries and other fruit being damaged. Flower lovers saw their roses and other blooms ruined

It was the heaviest hail and of longer duration than any storm for many years.

STREETS CLOSED OFF

The torrential rain flooded many streets of the city, several having to be closed to traffic. Water washed out a ditch and made Flannery street too soggy for travel. New dirt became rain soaked and sank in about two feet where a homebuilder was tapping into a sewer on John street. Traffic had to be closed on this street to keep motorists from dropping into the two-foot hole.

South Union street, from the railroad tracks to Parson street and South street at the railroad tracks were flooded.

During the heavy rain, city firemen answered two calls, both blazes being caused by lightning. The firemen extinguished a fire in a car on the public square and later were called to the New York Central yards where a transformer was struck by lightning. Destroyed by the fire, the transformer had to be replaced

In Shelby, the severe electrical storm caused damage to many gardens and farms in the area. Flowers, tomatoes and potato plants were leveled and many young plants were washed out.

The storm caught scores of picnickers and swimmers at Seltzer park and almost all were soaked through before reaching shelter.

There was no property damage reported, although there were very high winds.

and nearly impassable," Davis said.

The street superintendent said that he received more than 35 calls Saturday from persons reporting flooded basements, and flooded and damaged streets.

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk reported that the county weathered the storm in fairly good shape. Two spots were damaged, but were repaired in short order.

A fill in a road in Washington township near Newville was washed out and a culvert on Fackler road had settled but both points have been repaired

The Mansfield Telephone company reported that approximately 500 calls had been received for repair service by this morning. Calls are still coming in and workmen are being sent out to make repairs. All lines to Shelby except one were knocked out by the storm.

Numerous isolated cases of disrupted electrical service were reported Sunday

In spite of the heavy rains, local gardens suffered little damage except in low areas. Most Mansfield gardeners were out working with the return of fair weather yesterday counters to lay bets or, if they were lucky, to collect on winners. The reporter estimated the crowd that day at upwards of 200 persons

Saturday, despite the running of the Belmont stakes ($100,000 race won by Citation), the crowd was smaller, but it must be remembered that the bookie was competing with a downpour of rain that dumped nearly 2½ inches of water on Mansfield. The rain-reduced crowd Saturday was estimated by the newsman at about 125 persons at 3:45 p. m.

The reopening of the horse race bookie comes as a climax to the general slipping of the gambling ban which first became apparent around April 1, when cigar store and newsstand operators began putting punchboards, poker sheets and "tip" boards back on display after an absence of eight weeks following issuance of Schwab's "permanent" ban on gambling.

Within a short time after Chief Schwab's "permanent" gambling ban begin to slip, the entire "lid," with the exception of the horse race bet bookie, was off. The "bookie" operations now going on put the situation back to where they were prior to Feb. 1.

The Mosberg establishment is a fully-equipped parlor for horse race bet booking, just as it used to be. Along one wall are large blackboards on which are posted the names of the principal race tracks of the nation, with race entries, jockey names, weights, etc., posted for customers' convenience.

A long table is amply supplied with copies of racing forms to aid customers in their selections. A loudspeaker system, undoubtedly served with information from a "race news wire" provides a means for announcing the results of the various races as they are run bringing race players information immediately after each race is over.

City Urges County To Fix Bridge

Orange Street Work Hinges on Action

Richland county commissioners today referred to the prosecuting attorney an informal request from city street officials for the county to participate in the repairing of the Orange street bridge over the Rocky Fork. The cost is estimated to be in excess of $24,000.

Fred Miller, chairman of the street committee of city council, said the bridge was damaged last year when a truck broke through the flooring.

The city repaired the bridge temporarily but, with resurfacing of Orange street on the scheduled city improvement program, councilmen hesitate to go ahead with the project unless assured that the county will renew the bridge floor before the project begins

Miller said the county is responsible for maintaining the floor of the bridge.

County Prosecuting Attorney Theodore Lutz told the News-Journal he was not familiar with the details of the matter and would have to study it further before commenting on the county's liability.

Horoscope

for Tuesday, June 15

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

ADVERSE planetary configurations are likely to create a difficult, dangerous and generally dubious state of affairs. Major interests are at stake, concerning credit, finances, position, agreements and joint issues in all relationships. Understandings or pledges may be nullified, by bad judgment, fraudulent securities, extravagance, bombast or any form of misrepresentation. These combine to shake the confidence of those in influence who are interested. Duplicity and treachery may also pervade the social or romantic environment and ties. Guard against all losses.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are likely to encounter a year of treachery, fraud, misrepresentation and loss, not only due to unworthy intentions or plans, but to confused judgment, mistaken confidence, betrayals and intrigues affecting all forms of partnerships, joint issues or contracts of major significance. Be cautious with all writings, documents and agreements, and refrain from extravagance, prodigality, rash use of funds as well as energies or other assets. Keep prudent and practical in all investments and outlay. Guard reputation.

A child born on this day may suffer many losses and frustrations by its own extravagance, errors, misplaced judgment as well as the treachery of others.

Pledge of Allegiance to Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

This Is Flag Day, Remember?

ONLY THOSE who have been bitterly lonely in a foreign land and have come across the flag of the United States of America fluttering its stars and stripes in a casual breeze can know the real thrill of the standard's meaning. To be sure, all of us are stirred by the sight of the flag, yet to a homesick traveler it symbolizes thousands of things that we daily take for granted.

The color and design of the flag mean the protection of loved ones and their homes, not alone by armies but also by police, by mutual respect of neighbors, and by the dignity of the law which maintains tranquility in far greater measure than we give it credit for doing.

The flag means opportunity. Despite 14 years of attempted socialization on the part of some government theorists in this country, a man can still pretty well forge his own destiny. He can rise or fall by his own power in an independent business.

Most of all the flag means freedom. There are no rulers in this nation. There are only public representatives of the people. A man is free to praise or blame these representatives without fear of being spirited away during the night to a place of torture.

Two things, however, are lacking from our flag. They are stars. One should represent Hawaii and the other Alaska. The delay in making these territories full states in the union is an inexcusable folly. Those two stars are needed to make the flag shine with the full brilliance that is its right.

Drivers Who Ignore Pedestrians

NO EXHIBITION of thoughtlessness on the part of some motorists is the subject of more adverse criticism than that of making right or left turns at downtown intersections without regard to the right of pedestrians to use of crosswalks while motor vehicles are stopped by a red light.

Injury of a 72-year-old man at the intersection of East Fourth and Diamond streets Saturday evening by a car making a left turn may be taken as a specific instance of the danger involved in this practice, to which so little attention has been paid that it has become common procedure, even to the extent of some motorists impudently honking their horns to inform pedestrians that they are "going through," sometimes at entirely too high speed and often cutting a corner in making a left turn.

It is impossible, of course, to station a traffic officer at each downtown intersection, even during heavy traffic hours, but an occasional arrest for such violations of traffic regulations might serve as sufficient warning to induce greater carefulness on the part of habitual offenders.

Firearms Require Careful Guarding

SO MANY tragic occurrences are associated with the presence of firearms in homes, especially when they are within the reach of children, that the advisability of having a revolver, rifle or shotgun around the house is a subject of frequent discussion, particularly after some occurrence that directs attention to this danger.

A not uncommon news item tells of the death or injury of a child resulting from the accidental discharge of a firearm by a playmate and it is obvious that a deadly weapon should at no time be left where it can be picked up by anyone who is not trained in its proper use and who can be trusted to handle it safely.

Most likely argument, it is assumed, for having a revolver in the home is as a safeguard against burglary or molestation, yet the instant availability of a weapon, under such circumstances, seems remote, and the advisability of attempting resistance to a presumably armed intruder is questioned by persons who have given thought to the subject.

If there is to be a firearm of any sort in the home it should be carefully guarded against falling into the hands of any young child or older person who cannot be trusted to use it in a way that will not endanger the life of self or others.

Visiting Nurse Service Grows

WITH ANOTHER quarterly report of the Visiting Nurse association at hand it is interesting to note that 745 calls were made to homes and industries between March 1 and June 1. The association is undoubtedly filling a real need in the community.

If any complaint is to be registered against the service, it comes from homes where hypodermic "shots" must be administered several times a day, running the cost to a prohibitive figure for the ordinary family which is willing and able to pay for the usual visits but not for the repetitive daily calls.

This criticism can, of course, be obviated where the nurse teaches some member of the family to administer such "shots" as can safely be handled by a non-professional person.

Move To Quiet Wagging Tongues

IN BOGOTA, which is still under martial law, the Colombian government has announced that long terms of imprisonment will be meted out to those spreading false reports which might injure the armed forces.

This is carrying suppression of free speech rather far, but the edict will not be wholly bad if it makes rumor mongers more careful about wagging their tongues.

A tour of Mansfield stores is interesting these days.

DeGaulle Unsuited to Dictator's Role

By RELMAN MORIN

FOR the first time in their mutually acrimonious history, Gen. Charles DeGaulle and the French communists are political bed fellows today, a fact that reaffirms the truth of the old axiom.

Neither DeGaulle nor the communists approve of the plan to unify western Germany.

The general's political party, the French people's rally, is the strongest opponent of communism in France. Vice versa, DeGaulle is the man whom the Reds hope is least likely to succeed.

Nevertheless, and for totally different reasons, they find themselves lined up together today on the German issue. Together, they may be strong enough to bring about the dissolution of parliament and to cause a general election and a new government.

And so the question again arises in the minds of millions of people, on both sides of the Atlantic: Is Charles DeGaulle another dictator-in-the-making?

The answer, I believe, is "No." And I would hasten to emphasize that that is a strictly personal opinion, not shared by all the correspondents who watched him, during the war, and came to know him.

DeGaulle is an odd combination of a soldier, a mystic, a college professor, a technician, a historian and an idealist.

What he is not is a politician, meaning a man who understands and practices the art and strategy of maneuvering his way into power and then holding on to that power, by fair means or foul.

Refuses to Compromise.

COMPROMISE is the essence of politics—and DeGaulle has demonstrated, over and over again, that he will not compromise on matters of principle. In London during the war, the clang and clatter of his cyclopean battles with Winston Churchill could be heard all the way from Ten Downing street to the east end docks. At Casablanca, he clashed, almost on sight, with President Roosevelt.

In every instance it was because DeGaulle—who, after all, represented nobody but the few Frenchmen who had escaped the German occupation—insisted that France was still a first-ranking power, an ally, and should be treated as such.

Again, immediately after the war, remember that he came to power in Paris. But when the rest of the French government declined to approve his plan for a centralized regime, with greater power concentrated in the hands of the premier, he did not compromise. He resigned.

DeGaulle has an inexorable singleness of purpose. And once he sets his sights on an object, he will not look the other way—even for power.

That trait alone would disquality him as a potential dictator. He won't make deals. He won't trade horses. And if he owns a back-scratcher, he has never been known to use it.

Nor has he ever kissed any babies. Those homey little acts that are supposed to win the hearts—and the vote—of the common man are not for Charles DeGaulle.

He is a lonely man who holds himself aloof in public. Usually he is brusque, cold and unbending. If he has any sense of the value of publicity, which is doubtful, he scorns it. He doesn't like to have his picture taken, and I have seen him simply rise, without a word, and walk out of a press conference. He had said all he wanted to say and he wasn't bothering with the amenities.

His mental powers are unquestioned. History may show that he had an almost clairvoyant vision of the future of Europe.

But my personal opinion is that it will never record against his name the word—"dictator."

Thinking of the Future

By THOMAS L. STOKES

ABOARD President Truman's Special Train — Looking upon Grand Coulee dam in Washington, as president Truman saw it again for the third time, there came back a declamation we boys used to deliver in high school—Napoleon's speech to his army at the pyramids, beginning:

"Forty centuries look down upon you."

Untold centuries look down upon you in the Grand Coulee, or dry river bed, where the Columbia river once flowed in historic times until it was diverted by the great ice cap and changed its course. Stark palisades, once its banks, rise several hundred feet for miles on each side.

The President and his party stopped to look at the great precipice down which the mighty Columbia plunged to be heard only by Indians, if even they were here then, in a tumultuous flood that would have dwarfed Niagara.

Now the Grand Coulee of the Columbia is being transformed into a great reservoir from which water pumped into it from the Columbia is to be distributed to reclaim a million acres of land for farming and homes for many families.

The monster dam 550 feet high and three-quarters of a mile across, finished some time ago, which now checks the Columbia in its present course, not only makes this possible, but also is busily providing power that serves new industries all over the northwest.

It was a boon to save us in wartime, for it provided energy for development of the atomic bomb, for aluminum, for airplanes, for ships, and the manifold weapons of war.

Glimpsing the Future.

STANDING on top of the great dam, watching the waters hurtle down from one side and from the other, looking up the lake formed by the dam which extends 151 miles to the Canadian border, you are gazing into the future — a future of boundless promise created by man in his engineering and scientific role and not the dead bricks of the pyramids raised to satisfy the vanity of an Egyptian potentate by the labor of myriad of slaves which Napoleon celebrated in his oration.

The centuries instead open up before you.

This is the future.

The late President Roosevelt, with his vision, saw it and initiated the Grand Coulee project in Washington and the Bonneville project in Oregon, also on the Columbia river. He urged a series of dams to control and utilized this great river in the development of the northwest.

Had that been done the disasterous floods which wiped out the whole town of Vanport, Oregon, and devastated vast areas over which President Truman flew in a trip of inspection, would not have happened.

They could have been controlled, just as floods have been controlled by unified development of the Tennessee river by TVA.

President Truman's gospel, as was that of Franklin D. Roosevelt, is an expanding America. But, as he pointed out, there are what he aptly called "men of little faith" who bitterly fought this development which has meant so much for the Northwest, and who are now bitterly fighting its expansion — the private utilities and their agents in Congress.

For all that is being done to check extension of public power development, the President indicts this Congress, and properly. He has indicted this Congress also for blocking so many other measures for the welfare of the people of our country—housing, health, education, increase minimum wages, wider and more effective social security coverage, among others, and for refusing to do anything about inflation and high prices.

It all goes to show how we have been thrown back and how we shall be stopped in our progress, halted in the march toward our natural destiny, by "men of little faith," unless we, as a people, arouse ourselves and strike back at those who are pulling the strings on Congress, the lobbyists of special, selfish interests, once again confident of their power.

As the President said, if the people don't do anything about it, then they deserve what they get.

As Cerf Tells It

Most widely quoted quip of the month (already claimed as "original" by three columnists and four radio comics) concerns the man who knew so many angles he could get into a revolving door behind you and come out ahead of you. In second place is the story of a sign some wag hung up at Romanoff's exclusive restaurant in Beverly Hills: "All you can eat for $500."

Loopholes In Knutson Tax Revision Bill

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The declining years of the duPonts, the Rockefellers, the Morgans and the Astors will be made considerably brighter by several loopholes tucked away in the new "technical" tax bill which Congressman Harold Knutson, Republican of Minnesota, is obligingly reporting out of the ways and means committee.

He has carefully called this a "technical tax-revision" bill which gives the general impression that it merely rounds off a few rough edges of the tax law.

The edges it rounds off, however, cut down the estate and gift taxes so as to benefit the wealthiest families in the USA.

Most people don't realize that the earlier tax bill, passed over President Truman's veto, carried a little-noticed provision reducing estate and gift taxes by a rough average of 30 per cent. By reason of estate-tax exemptions of $60,000, this relief goes only to the nation's wealthiest families.

This, however, has merely whetted the appetites of the tax lawyer lobbyists. They are now out to get more for their wealthy clients, and their good friend Congressman Knutson has generously fixed up another bill—H. R. 6712—by which anyone with a good tax lawyer could pass on to his family the nice little bonanza of between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 without any death or gift taxes whatsoever.

This would reduce gift and inheritance taxes. And while reducing gift and inheritance taxes for the wealthy, millions of low-income taxpayers continue to pay 8 to 10 times as much in income taxes as before the war.

Note—The two tax lobbyists who sneaked this across with their willing friend Knutson were Roswell Magill, the Wall Street tax lawyer, and William Sutherland, tax expert of the American Bar Association.

Letter Wins Contest.

A 61-YEAR-OLD former schoolteacher and advertising man, Russell Mitcheltree of Scardsdale, N. Y., was chosen top winner in Drew Pearson's contest for the best letter on How To Make Democracy Live. He receives a prize of $5,000.

Born in West Middlesex, Pa., Mr. Mitcheltree was graduated from Yale in 1911, taught school, was a reporter on the old New York Tribune and has been in the advertising business since 1918. His letter on democracy was selected by a board of three judges—former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, Attorney General Tom Clark and Arthur Clare Boothe Luce.

The winning letter follows:

"We, the people, can make democracy live, by living for democracy. First, let me—this man, this woman—cherish human freedom. Then let me, by word and example, inspire others to follow democratic ways.

As a citizen of my community, let me respect individual worth regardless of race, creed, color, position. Let me grant each person all his rights—religious, political, social, economic. Let me protect these rights—if need be, with my blood. Working for others, let me work well. Employing others, let me pay well. Applying good will at democracy's roots, I shall nourish life, liberty, happiness.

"As a citizen of my country, let me faithfully practice my citizenship, not lose democracy by default. Let me advance these principles of welfare: That government is not a master, but an ever-progressing ally of man in his quest of food, health, home, education, security. That good public servants should be supported and unfit be replaced. That minorities must be heeded, lest unchecked power turn tyrant. That I am personally responsible for making democracy succeed, on Election Day and every day.

"As a citizen of the world, let me help my country to help mankind. Untainted by selfish interest, let us aid any nation threatened or exploited. Being rich in God's plenty, let us feed the hungry. Being strong, let us lead earth's peoples to prosperity and peace.

"Thus doing our duty at home and abroad, with justice, wisdom, courage, kindness, we shall win men's hearts and make democracy live."

A total of $15,000 was awarded to 144 other prize winners.

EVERYBODY jumps on the Voice of America. And it deserves some criticism. But on the other hand, it hasn't got much help from U. S. newspaper powers. For instance, the Associated Press won't even let the Voice of America quote from its dispatches. The AP permits Tass, the official Soviet news agency, to quote, but not the U. S. government. In fact, if the Moscow radio distorts an AP dispatch, the Voice of America hasn't the right to quote the same AP dispatch correctly in order to get the real truth across to Russia . . . This was threshed out at the last Society of Editors meeting, following which AP directors turned the Voice of America down.

Assignment: America

An Economical Vacation

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—Probably five million non-golf-playing wives will wish to shoot me for opening my big yap in this regard. But here's a vacation tip for the not-too-well-heeled citizen in these inflated times:

It can be done, Chum, and within your pocketbook, too—that vacation, I mean—providing you stay away from the main drags and the big watering places.

Actually, the golf angle of it doesn't matter much, as long as a man and his wife and family have some not-too-costly sport in common, plus a desire to get away from their ordinary surroundings.

Most of what happened to us could happen to anybody, in any part of the country—and at approximately the same expense, which is the important point in these times.

For the missus and me, it literally was the first vacation in three years, and just about the first since the war began. What little time we'd had otherwise on my home leaves, et cetera, had been spent dashing madly across country and back, trying to see as many people as possible in the little time allowed.

It never was enough, and inevitably we returned feeling worse than when we started. Also, somehow or other, our pocketbook always took a terrific beating. That was particularly true during those years when we tried to hit the hotcha vacation circuit. Financially speaking, they took us like—you should excuse the expression—Grant took Richmond. The result was that we'd never had a really satisfactory vacation in the ten years we'd been married. To make current matters worse, I'd been out of the country this year when the March income tax business came due, so it was postponed until June, and that just meant that we were worse off financially than ever. You know how it goes.

But we sat down and got to figuring. Fortunately, we both play golf and like the game, although neither of us is liable to win any cups at it. And we both wanted to get away from a ringing telephone.

Well, we figured we couldn't finance more than a week of it, so we hid out at home for the first week and cleaned up those odds and ends that accumulate through the year. Then we got ready for the second week—the real vacation.

Unplanned Destination.

WE DREW a 200-mile circle around Washington on the map, picked out the best direction and took off. It brought us up in the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia. And it was cool there.

We hunted around and found a murderous little nine-hole golf course. Then we located a tourist cabin a couple of miles away. Actually, that's all there was to it, except that the tourist camp was right in the middle of the quiet woods and even had hammocks slung between trees and in the back where a man could just sort of rest and think—if he felt like it.

Well, for seven days, we just slept in the hammocks when we felt like it, and played golf when we felt like it. And at night, the frogs croaked and the breezes blew and we slept beautifully.

For the cabin, we paid five dollars a day—thirty-five dollars for the week.

For food (considering the current price of groceries), we found a little roadside restaurant that was reasonable, and figured that it cost us, at the most, ten dollars more to eat there than it would have had we stayed at home. That makes forty-five dollars.

Green fees at the golf course were sixteen dollars in all, bringing the total up to sixty-one dollars.

Then, being practical, there was the matter of the gas and oil to get us down and back. Quite frankly, it came to less than the nine dollars which would be required to make the vacation's cost total an even seventy dollars, but that's what we called it.

MR. TRUMAN'S position is becoming much clearer . . . obviously he is for curbing unruly congressmen and rivers.

While he did not indict Republicans by name for the spring floods he has made it clear that no Democrats were involved.

Incidentally the Republican campaign song "Date In '48" is coming off the presses . . . If anything goes wrong it will be re-issued as "We're Surely Due In '52."

Democrats are torn between "Always" and "We're Just Rolling Along With the Breeze."

Still a plane which can travel six miles in six seconds is not too remarkable considering the current speed of the current dollar.

Farmer's Diary

From 'Middle America'

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE ISLAND republic of Haiti has the densest population of any country in the whole Western Hemisphere. Most of the people are Negroes, and practically all the rest mulattoes. About the size of Maryland, Haiti has nearly three million inhabitants, or 254 persons per square mile.

More than four-fifths of the Haitians are farmers, living in the valleys, on the plains and on the arable slopes, although the seaports are the big population centers. French is the national language—Haiti is the only French-speaking country in the New World. A Creole patois is widely used—a language based on old French, but mixed with native Indian, Spanish and English influence.

Early Spanish explorers almost wiped out the original inhabitants, the Arawak Indians, who numbered a million when the Spaniard first took over. Negroes imported from Africa assimilated the few thousand Indians remaining, and after three centuries of Spanish and French control, established the first republic in Middle America.

THE world's greatest stand of mahogany exists in Honduras—but to speak of a "stand" of mahogany is incorrect. Mahogany stands alone—a forest census showing a pair to the acre is considered exceptional. They are rugged individualists, hermit trees. It is not unusual for one tree to be separated from the next by a whole mile.

Nowadays, low-flying planes scout for specimens. Formerly they were sought out by professional 'spotters' who would climb a tall tree and peer over the forest's leafy roof. If a mahogany tree was anywhere within eyeshot, it loomed far above its fellows often to a height of 100 feet.

A FRIENDLY handclasp across the sea was effected recently between Costa Rica and United States, with the establishment of an inter-American agricultural co-operative service. Costa Rica contributed $138,000 in cash and local dairymen provided purebred cattle valued at $40,000. An additional $27,500 is due later. The Inter-American Institute will contribute $50,000 to the end of the fiscal year.

The program calls for improvement of seeds and cattle, soil conservation malaria control, and extension of farm and garden clubs. A grain shortage specialist from United States will leave for Costa Rica to assist in construction of silos. The whole program is part of over-all U. S. efforts to aid in the agricultural development of Middle and South America.—Middle America Information Bureau.

Social Security Benefits to Women Cited By Blonston

The special rights of women under the Federal Social Security act were stressed today by Edward P. Blonston, manager of the Mansfield office of the Social Security Administration.

He explained that many women do not realize that cash payments may be due them as the result of their own or their husband's employment It is important for every woman to know of these resources at the time of retirement of herself or her husband, or upon the death of her husband or child since family financial problems usually bear most heavily on the wife, widow, or mother, Blonston said

An unmarried woman 65 years of age or older, who is retiring from a job under the Social Security act, may receive monthly benefits based on her own wage record. If she is married, she may also qualify for monthly payments as the wife of an insured retired wage earner. She is paid the larger of these two amounts

The Social Security act provides monthly benefits under certain conditions for a widow 65 or over, as well as for a young widow who has in her care one or more children, including adopted children and stepchildren of the deceased wage earner If there are no such survivors, then aged mothers and fathers, who were chiefly dependent on the wage earner before the latter's death, may receive parent's monthly insurance benefits Finally, the widow, at any age, may be entitled to a lump-sum benefit, if neither she nor the children of the wage earner are entitled to monthly benefits.

The area Social Security office is at 405 Richland Trust building. The office serves Ashland, Crawford, Knox, Morrow and Richland counties

Properties Nationalized

Romania Seizes Foreign Holdings

WASHINGTON —(UP)— A government official said today American owners whose properties are being expropriated in Romania would have to become Romanian communists to get any value from the "compensation" Romania offers

Communist-controlled Romania has nationalized nearly all its industry, including oil companies owned partially by British and American interests Total value of American holdings in Romania was estimated here at less than $50,000,000

Officials here said Romania's offer to pay "compensation" in Romanian state bonds would be unsatisfactory to the United States. They predicted that this government would ask Romania to pay in full in a usable currency" for the millions of dollars in American property expropriated under the surprise Romanian move

The Romanian state bonds merely represent a promise to pay in Romanian currency Romanian currency cannot be transferred for dollars

"It would be of value to an American only if he were a good communist who wanted to live in Romania," one official said.

American holdings in Romania include a subsidiary firm of Standard Oil of New Jersey, and a telephone and radio assembly plant owned by International Telephone and Telegraph.

Officials pointed out that American investors actually lose no dollars by the nationalization proceedings They do lose "potential" assets and control over management of the plants

They had been getting no dollar profits for more than a decade although many of their firms in Romania were making money The profits were in Romanian currency for which the Romanian government wouldn't give up any of its dollars.

American Leader of Israeli Army Was World War Hero

NEW YORK —(UP)— Col David Marcus, supreme commander of Israel's military forces on the Jerusalem front who was killed last Thursday, was an American hero of World War II

The 47-year-old, West Point-trained officer was felled a few hours before the Palestine cease-fire order became effective

A former New York city official, he was twice decorated by the United States government during the war.

He saw service in nearly every theater of operations, helped draft the surrender terms for Italy and Germany, and was a legal aide to the U S delegations at Dumbarton Oaks, Yalta, Tehran and Potsdam

News of his death was first reported by David Ben Gurion, Israel's prime minister It was the first death officially record by the Israeli government of a former high-ranking U.S. army officer although several former American soldiers have died in Palestine while serving with Zionist troops

Ben Gurion's message said that Marcus was killed at his post "in the hills of Jerusalem" while he was "trying to open the road to get food through to the people of Jerusalem"

A colonel in the U S army in World War II, Marcus won the distinguished service medal and the bronze star.

In the invasion of France, he parachuted into Normandy.

He was with the U S tank column that entered the Dachau concentration camp in 1945

The horror he saw there, friends said confirmed his belief in the need for a Jewish homeland

Born in Brooklyn, Marcus was graduated from West Point and commissioned in the infantry.

"What this country amounts to depends on what happens to its homes"

THE FUTURE of our country depends as much on our homes as it does on our material wealth. Indeed, if we are to have confidence in the years that are ahead, we must protect the unity and security of our families.

Naturally, family happiness and security depend fundamentally on sound money management. In this, life insurance is essential. But money is not the only major problem in family life! That's why, for the past two years, the life insurance companies and their agents have brought you expert counsel on many of the other important family problems.

We are indebted to the twenty-eight men and women, recognized authorities in the fields of family welfare and social science, who have taken such an important part in this program. Their messages have covered many different problems in family life . . . personal, financial and spiritual. They have shown by specific example how family happiness can be planned.

Many people in all walks of life have found the advice of these authorities a real contribution to our national welfare. So we are planning a new series to show how families much like yours are handling these same problems in everyday life!

Ohio Schools Face Overflow

1,400,000 Enrollment Due In '53

Forecast Based On 1947 Births

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— The Ohio Education association estimated today that Ohio's 1947 birth total will send the state's school enrollment over the 1,400,000 mark in five years.

The new forecast for the 1953-54 school year included all public school pupils, T. G. O'Keefe, OEA research director, said.

"Our enrollment studies indicate an enrollment of 1,363,600 in grades one through 12 in 1953-54," he said. "The addition of kindergarten and special students would push the total over 1,400,000 as compared with approximately 1,100,000 pupils in the school year just completed."

The OEA research chief said school enrollment in the elementary grades may be expected to increase with greater rapidity each year, making the shortage of qualified teachers and buildings more critical.

A new all-time high for ttotal school enrollment, O'Keefe forecast, will be established in 1952 when 1,275,000 pupils jam tthe state's classrooms. The previous high of 1,253,000 was set in 1930.

The upward revision in future enrollments was made after the state division of vital statistics reported that Ohio's birth total in 1947 was 197,297. The total was more than double the 1933 birth figure and was considerably higher tthan the 1946 total of 169,645.

O'Keefe said that in terms of elementary teachers, the enrollment increase and other turnover factors will call for a minimum of 3,000 new teachers annually. Demand for high school teachers, except in certain specialized fields, will not increase until the middle and late 1950's, he added.

This, he explained, is due to the fact that high school enrollment will not begin to increase untitl 1951-52 and will not feel the impact of children born during the war years until 1960.

Boat Overturns, 2 Persons Drown

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Two persons drowned in a Scioto river boating accident near the Girls' Industrial school north of here Saturday. Two companions were rescued.

Sheriff Earl Fravel of Delaware county identified the victims as Paul Carson, 24, and Mrs. Barbara Carson, 19, both of Columbus.

Fravel said an outboard-equipped rowboat overturned while making a sharp turn.

CAMBRIDGE, Eng.—(U.P.)—Red-haired Richarda Morrow-Tait, 24-year-old Cambridge housewife, announced plans today for a flight around the world in a light two-seater plane.

The attractive young mother said she will take off July 15 in a 130-horse power Chrislea Ace, which she has named "Thursday's Child" because she says it "has so far to go."

Michael Townsend, a first-year geography student, will be her navigator, and she plans to follow a route by way of Corsica, Egypt, Karachi, Japan, Canada, and Iceland.

Mrs. Morrow-Tait is the first woman to get a British "A" pilot's license since the war.
